- Applications for consultation submitted simultaneously for suitability of the device in relation to more than one active substance(s) or combination of substances will be charged at EUR 8 600 per additional active substance or combination of substances up to a maximum of EUR 103 800.

2.3.2. Follow-up to the initial request

EUR 26 200 for consultation on an amendment to the documentation of a companion diagnostic already evaluated by the Agency in connection with a previous successful notified body consultation. In this case a further consultation is requested by a notified body after a first consultation, in response to changes to a companion diagnostic that affect the performance and/or the intended use and/or the suitability of the device in relation to the medicinal product(s) concerned, which results in a supplement to the EU technical documentation assessment certificate or EU type-examination certificate.

Annex IV Inspections

1. Background

In the context of assessing a single dossier, manufacturer, blood establishment, clinical trial, non-clinical study or pharmacovigilance inspection, it is possible that more than one 'inspection' is requested, and thus the applicant (including for a marketing authorisation and rolling review), prospect applicant, marketing authorisation holder, plasma master file holder or vaccine antigen master file holder (hereinafter the "applicant") will be liable for more than one inspection fee, since Council Regulation (EC) No 297/95 provides for a fee for each inspection. This Annex defines the basis for determining what constitutes a single, distinct inspection, and how the number of inspection fees for which an applicant is liable is calculated.

2. Definition of distinct inspection

2.1. Good manufacturing practices (GMP)

For the purposes of determining liability for GMP inspection fees, distinct inspections are distinguished one from another as follows:

- A distinct inspection is one concerning:
 - a specific manufacturing site, and
 - relates to a medicinal product which is the subject of a particular application/authorisation (or for which the prospect applicant has submitted a "letter of intent to submit"), and
 - relates to a particular group of manufacturing activities (manufacture of active substance or medicinal product), and
 - relates to a particular group of manufacturing operations (manufacture of sterile or non-sterile medicinal products), and
 - involves the same inspection team and is conducted on successive working days.

Irrespective of it being in the context of the same application, any other inspection concerning any additional group of manufacturing activities or operations and/or site is considered to be a further, distinct inspection.

In the above definition:

- a manufacturing site is a physical location identifiable by a distinct address which contains one or more manufacturing facilities at the same address; whereby a manufacturing facility comprises a separate building or complex of buildings in which a manufacturing activity or activities are carried out;
- a medicinal product is distinguished by its unique EMA number.
- two separate groups of manufacturing activities are distinguished one from another as follows:
 - all activities related to the manufacture of the active substance
 - activities related to the manufacture of the medicinal product

- two separate groups of manufacturing operations are distinguished one from another as follows:
 - manufacture of sterile products
 - manufacture of non-sterile products

Fee calculations for inspections of VAMF manufacturers shall be done by analogy to the calculation of inspections for active substances.

2.2. Good clinical practices (GCP)

For the purposes of determining liability for GCP inspection fees, distinct inspections are distinguished one from another as follows:

- A distinct inspection is one concerning:
 - A medicinal product which is subject of a particular application/authorisation, and
 - relates to a particular clinical trial protocol, and
 - a specific clinical trial related site, and
 - relates to a particular activity group (Activity group I or Activity group II or Activity group III or Activity Group IV), and
 - involves the same inspection team and is conducted on successive working days.

Irrespective of it being in the context of the same application, any other inspection concerning any additional site and/or clinical trial protocol and/or clinical trial related activity group is considered to be a further, distinct inspection.

In the above definition:

- a medicinal product is distinguished by its unique EMA number;
- a specific clinical trial is distinguished by its unique protocol number;
- a specific clinical trial related site is a physical location identifiable by a distinct address which contains one or more clinical trial facilities in which one or more clinical trial activity group(s) are carried out, for one or more clinical trial protocol(s);
- four separate groups of clinical trial activities are distinguished one from another as follows:
 - Activity Group I: Investigator site activities (e.g. verification of the existence of the patients, availability of informed consent, adherence to inclusion and exclusion criteria, source data verification etc.);
 - Activity Group II: Laboratory/Technical facility activities (e.g. analytical laboratory activities, central laboratory activities);
 - Activity Group III: Data management, statistical analysis and clinical study reporting activities;
 - Activity Group IV: Study set up, monitoring and/or audit activities

2.3. Good laboratory practices (GLP)

For the purposes of determining liability for GLP inspection fees, distinct inspections are distinguished one from another as follows:

- A general GLP compliance inspection covering general GLP compliance of a single test facility which has carried out non-clinical safety, toxicological and pharmacological studies proposed in an application for marketing authorisation for either human or veterinary medicinal products.
- A specific GLP study related inspection covering studies performed at a single test facility to assess issues related to the assessment of the non-clinical part of the dossier.

2.4. Pharmacovigilance inspections

For the purposes of determining liability for pharmacovigilance inspection fees, distinct inspections are distinguished one from another as follows:

- Each inspection is the subject of a separate inspection report.
- A distinct inspection is one with a pharmacovigilance obligation compliance and/or product and/or process-related scope concerning:
 - a particular pharmacovigilance activity, and
 - relates to a medicinal product the subject of a particular authorisation, and
 - is carried out at a specific pharmacovigilance site of pharmacovigilance activity, and
 - is conducted on a specific occasion.

Irrespective of it being in the context of the same authorisation, any other inspection concerning any additional pharmacovigilance related activity and/or site is considered to be a further, distinct inspection.

In the above definition:

- a single responsibility or set of directly related responsibilities involved in the conduct of pharmacovigilance constitutes a single pharmacovigilance activity, and
- a physical location which contains one or more pharmacovigilance facilities at the same address constitutes a single pharmacovigilance site, where
- a pharmacovigilance facility comprises a separate building or complex of buildings in which a pharmacovigilance activity or activities are carried out.

2.5. Plasma master file (PMF)

For the purposes of determining liability for PMF inspection fees, distinct inspections are distinguished one from another as follows:

- A distinct inspection is one which
 - relates to a specific PMF dossier, the subject of a particular PMF certificate, and
 - is carried out at a specific blood establishment site, and
 - is conducted on a specific occasion.

Irrespective of it being in the context of the same PMF application, any other inspection concerning any additional blood/plasma related activity and/or blood establishment is considered to be a further, distinct inspection.

In the above definition:

- a blood establishment may comprise a separate building or complex of buildings in which a blood/plasma activity or activities related to the production of a plasma pool defined by the PMF dossier are carried out.

3. Cost of inspections

Where an inspection has been carried out the applicable inspection fee(s) shall be payable by the applicant.

Where an inspection, cancelled by the applicant at any stage in the processing of the application, was to take place outside the European Union, the applicant shall be charged the costs of any travel expenses already incurred by the inspecting authority on the date of cancellation for which the authority is not able to obtain reimbursement.

No costs shall be payable by the applicant for any financial consequences arising from changes made to notified inspection arrangements by parties other than the applicant e.g. change in travel arrangements for the inspectors.

No costs shall be payable by the European Medicines Agency and the inspecting authority for any financial consequences suffered by the applicant arising out of a failure to conduct a notified inspection or a consequential need to rearrange that inspection.

Annex V

2. Repayment of certain costs to national competent authorities

As laid out in Regulation (EC) No 726/2004, the Agency is responsible for the implementation of uniform regulatory procedures concerning the authorisation and supervision of centrally approved medicinal products and those presented for arbitration through the CHMP and CVMP.

Member State competent authorities undertake to make available to the Agency the necessary human scientific resources needed for the preparation of the opinions of the Agency's scientific committees.

The Agency is expected to cover all administrative costs as well as all expenses related to the organisation of meetings and to the travel and accommodation of committee members and experts. Member States competent authorities must be fairly compensated for putting resources at the disposal of the Agency.

3. Activities of the Agency

The Agency's secretariat is responsible for:

- ensuring the cooperation and the coordination of European scientific resources undergoing evaluation work foreseen in Regulation (EC) No 726/2004 and Regulation (EU) 2019/6;
- making available an optimal administrative and logistical support and the highest possible quality of working organisation and conditions.

The transfer of marketing authorisations and type-I variations are handled essentially by the Agency's Secretariat, and the total corresponding fees will be fully retained by the Agency.

4. Travel and accommodation expenses

All travel and accommodation allowances paid to Management Board, committee members and other experts will be financed separately on the Agency's budget in accordance with the applicable decision of the Management Board.

5. Arbitration and referrals

For referral procedures initiated as a result of the evaluation of pharmacovigilance data under the second subparagraph of Article 31(1), Article 31(2) and Articles 107i to 107k of Directive 2001/83/EC or under Article 20(8) of Regulation (EC) No 726/2004 fees are payable according to Regulation (EU) No 658/2014.

For any other arbitration or referral procedure, triggered at the instigation of the Commission or a Member State under Articles 29, 30, 31 and 35 of Directive 2001/83/EC (human medicines) and Articles 54 and 82 of Regulation (EU) 2019/6 (veterinary medicines) and at the instigation of the Commission under Article 130(4) of Regulation (EU) 2019/6, no fee is payable to the Agency.

6. Mechanism for financial compensation

A simple mechanism for financial compensation between the Agency and national competent authorities has been established. The details governing the financial compensation are laid down in the cooperation agreement between the Agency and the National Competent Authorities.

The Management Board and the CHMP/CVMP have agreed on the principle of excluding direct payments to individuals. Instead, periodical compensation mechanisms will be ensured through the channel of national competent authorities, whereby credits and debits of each of the institutions are to be settled.

Payments made by the Agency in accordance with this decision shall be divided equally between the national competent authorities of the rapporteur and co-rapporteur, who are responsible for the allocation of resources within their evaluation team(s).

Where no co-rapporteur has been appointed, the rapporteur shall receive the whole payment due to national competent authorities.

Where the rapporteur and co-rapporteur have agreed on a different allocation of resources between the two teams, notification should be made to the Secretariat.

Where multinational assessment teams have been established, direct payment by the Agency to the participating NCAs could be made upon notification by the leading NCA to the Secretariat before the validation of the application of the allocation of resources as agreed between the leading and the participating NCAs.

For inspections the payment to National Authorities is divided by $n+1$, where n = number of inspectorates participating in a site inspection, unless otherwise agreed by all parties involved and notified before the inspection takes place. The additional (+1) fee portion is allocated to the reporting inspectorate, for the reporting inspector role, in addition to the part of the fee that the inspectorate receives for participating in the site inspection.

The reporting inspectorate is the leading inspectorate, which takes the responsibility for organising, planning and reporting the inspection(s), acting as the main communication point between the inspection team and the Agency and, where applicable (e.g. GCP inspections), writing and co-signing the integrated inspection report (a report that summarises the critical and major findings of the inspection of several sites).

The travel expenses of the inspectors involved in inspections requested by the CXMP are reimbursed in accordance with Article 3(4) of Council Regulation (EC) No 297/95. These expenses are to be paid directly by the applicant/MAH to the inspectors' authorities.
