

The key feature of the Multi-Stakeholder Platform (MSP) should be its commitment and effectiveness in creating a patient-centered framework for clinical trials in Europe.

- Patients' involvement in research = essential, not "optional extra" throughout entire innovation chain
- Patient education & empowerment can make a difference
- A culture shift is required -

“From research on patients...
to (better) research with patients”